OWNER OF MAULER, AND SUNOL GETS ANOTHER GREAT TROTTER

The Siz-Year-Old Gelding Sold Under the planmer for $5,100 -Jolly Bird Goes to $x-Park Commissioner McMillan-James fluiler I ays $7,000 for Young Kintawah. The sale of the crack trotter Praytell, 2:00 sc. was one of the features which attracted another targe crowd of horsemen to Madison Square Garden yesterday. Three or four thousand persons were in the big arenaat3 o'clock when No. 121 went up on the board above the auctioneer's box and a stately, big chestnut geld-ing appeared on the miniature track, hooked to preumatic road cart. Interest among road riders was at a high pitch, for Praytell is looked upon by those who know him best as being about the fastest trotter to wagon in the country. Robert Bonner, the distinguished horse man, who has paid fabulous sums for turf champions for pleasure driving during the last forty years, occupied a box nearly opposite the auction stand, and those who saw him auspected that he was there to buy the big chestnut trotter from Cleveland. But the owner of Maud 8, 2:08%, and Sunol, 2:08%, gave no sign when bids were asked for.

Ed Cernea, who buys horses for Col. Lawrence Kip, started the ball a-rolling with an offer of $1.000, which was quickly raised to $2,000, and then to $3,000, the contending bidders being R. W. Goodrich of Poultney, Vt., and F. P. Roberge. The Vermonter held out gamely until his bid was $5,000, but when Reberge responded with $5,100 he cried quits and shook his head. As soon as the hammer fell Roberge announced that he was acting for Robert Benner. Everybody was surprised, for the venerable horseman had sat through the sidding without changing a muscle or taking any more interest in the sale than in any other of the day. Somebody proposed three cheers for Praytell's new owner, and they were given with a will, the whole driving fraternity being greatly pleased to see Mr. Bonner buy the horse that all the experts say is going to rule the road here.

Praytell is a liver-colored chestnut golding. with a white strip in his face and a small snip on the nose. His height was not stated in the sale catalogue, but he is a horse of enormous stature, and cannot be much less than 16.2 hands high. He has all the substance that the horseman wishes to see in a flyer, and he is built on pleasing lines, although not exactly a show horse. He is six years old. The sale cat alogue and the Year Book, too, state that he was bred by W. P. Ijams, President of the American Trotting Association, but this is a mistake. Fred A. Forshea of Nebraska bred the horse. Ijams owned him when young however, and drove him in his family carriage at Terre Haute two or three years ago. The shapely big fellow is as gentle as a kitten and as fearless as a lion. He is one of those rare trotters that possess extreme speed kitten and as fearless as a lion. He is one of those rare trotters that possess extreme speed along with all the qualities that go to make a perfect road horse, and it was this combination which made him sell for $5,100. He has been driven about town since his arrival here last week, paying no attention to street cars or elevated trains or anything else.

Praytell is by Axtell, 2:12, the horse that beat all stallion records at three years old, and was then sold for $105,000. Praytell's dam has a record of 2:30, and she was by Look, a son of Nutwood, 2:18%, grandam by Bucephalus, 2:28%. Praytell came out as a three-year-old, gaining a record of 2:17%. He lowered his mark to 2:12 in his four-year-old form, and then cut it down to 2:09% in a race last year. He has trotted in 2:10% to wagon this year, moving the last half in 1:03% and the last quarter in 0:30%, a 2:02 gait.

Praytell was not the only flyer purchased yesterday by the men who make the sport on the new Speedway. William Rockefeller bought the bay gelding Harry B. 2:24%, by Greenbacks, paying $825 for him. He has trotted in 2:175 to wagon, it is said. Ex-Park Commissioner McMillan bought the roan mare Jolly Bird, by Jay Bird, for $3,700: Assemblyman Caril S. Burr, Jr., paid $900 for Lucy Porter, 2:21%, by Commodors Porter, 2:13, buying her, it was said, for H. O. Havemeyer: J. W. Cornish, owner of David B. 2:00%; dought the stour, fast trotter, New Castle, 2:11%, that finished second of Elloreo in 2:10, both trotters pulling pneumatic wagons. Capt. W. C. Harrington of Troy, who owns Phorbe Wilken, 2:08%; Garnet, 2:13, adother fast road horses, bought the prizewaning double team Luia A. 2:19, by Diaward Cleveland. The Troy road rider paid $1,00 for one of the mares and $600 for the other.

The champion three-year-old pacer Klata-

The champion three-year-old pacer Klatawah, 2:05%, was the star of the evening sale. He was led out at 9:30 o clock, when 4.000 persons filled the south side of the Garden. Andy McDowell, the man who drove Alix to the world's frotting record of 2:03%, started the shapely bay colt at $2,000. It was hard work for Auctioneer Bain to get a bid of $4,000, at which price it looked as though Capt. C. H. Tuthill would secure the great Californian. McDowell, however, came back until Capt. Tuthill said $5,000, where there was another hitch in the proceedings. Just as the hammer was about to fall a man away up in a back seat under the gallery raised the bid to $5,100. He was James Butler, the owner of Directum Kelly, 2:08%, and Direct, 2:05%, and everybody knew he would get the colt when he started in to bid on him. Capt. Tuthill hung on until Butler said $7,000, but there the former stopped. A great many horsemen look upon Klatawah as being a prospective two-minute pacer. The following horses were sold for $200 or over.

Old Brood Mares Sell Cheap.

LEXINGTON, Nov. 22.-The brood mares sold William Easton here to-day averaged only $86 per head. Several good bargains were picked up. L. O. Appleby got a six-year-ole Springbok mare out of the dam of Audrain for springbok mare out of the dam of Audrain for $425, while Col. Milton Young paid $500 for her full sister. Col. Young bought most of the mares of any value. The majority of them are advanced in yoars. The auctioncer gave $5 to a colored man to take out of the ring a twenty-one-year-old imp. Mortimer mare, and he passed without a bid two Faustus mares. The stallions Audrain and Eberlee were also passed out.

The only high price to-night was for Ten Candles, yearling bay colt, by imp. Candlemas — Tenerine. Wifliam Lakeland of New York bought him for $1,200. The thirty-six head of yearlings and two-year-olds brought $3,540. William Lakeland, who is here attending the sales, says Marcus Daly will not send Hamburg to England next year, but will allow him to make a short season in the stud. Sidney Paget essays his father-in-law, William C. Whitney, will be here on Saturday, and that he will look over several of the farms which have been selected for his inspection, and may buy a breeding establishment in this State.

This was Thomas Cat, in the last race. Hamilton worked him another mile after winning, but he was a very tired horse at the end of the two miles. This was his work for the Washington Cup, which will be run on Thursday. Silver Cups for New York University Ath

Late yesterday afternoon nineteen silver cups, the gift of Commodore David Banks to New York University Gymnasium, arrived at University Heights. The cups will be awarded to students for good indoor athletic and gymnastic work. Last year Commodore Banks presented a number of cups and medals to the university, and as a result gymnastics boomed during the winter. Last night Physical Director Frank Cann announced that eight of the cups will b presented to the winners of the all-around gymnastic contest in March. In order to en ourage athletic work five cups will be awarded to the five students scoring the highest number of points in the all-around indoor athletic contest. This will consist of the regular intercollegiate events and will comprise four competitions of three or four events each. The points will be scored on the basis of 100 for a record performance and I point less for each second or fifth of an inch lower. The most valuable cup will be awarded to the freshman making the greatest gain in physical development. Two cups will be awarded for excellence in chest weight drill, and one cup to the member of the sophomore class whose work in the bar best drill is very good. The remaining two cups will be given to the two men who stand highest in the strength test contest. The season will be opened by a gymnastic and athletic exhibition on Dec. 21 in the gymnasium. Among the events will be a five-men relay race between the sophomore and freshmen classes.

The 15-85 'varsity football team met in the gymnasium vesterday afternoon and elected have beloog the sort of the content o to the five students scoring the highest number gymnasium yesterday afternoon and elected Bean Halford, 1880, of Washington, D. The visitors left at 0:45 o'clock for Wayne, where they will put in their time until Thanksgiving Day. Then they will meet the University of Pannsylvania eleven on Pranklin Field for their annual footbati

Young; left half back, Capt. Whiting; right half back, Will; full back, Starbuck. Substitutes-Ends Wilson and Grimshaw: Ilmemen, G. Young, Caldwell, and Alexander; quarter back, Short; half backs, Windsor, Sleicher, Morrison, and Hogan; full back, Perkins. Trainer, Connors; coschers, Warner, Fen-nell, and Lyte; manager, Tuller; assistant managers,

With a few exceptions the players are in good condition. Coach Warner is a little anxious about Capt. Whiting, who is walking around about Capt. Whiting, who is walking around with two loose ribs. These were knocked out of place about two weeks ago while Cornell was playing Oberlin at Buffalo. It was the intention to put Morrison in the Captain's place, but as the former dislocated his shoulder in practice yesterday on Percy Field, this is out of the question. If Capt. Whiting cannot last through the game, either Will or Windsor will have to play instead. The other doubtful place is that of full back. Cornell has two good men in Starbuck and Perkins, and it is believed that both will receive a chance-to show their worth during the game. Starbuck will probably play the first half. The remainder of the men are in good condition. The team is much lighter than last year's cloven.

Easton, Nov. 22.—Enthusiasm over the Lehigh game to be played here Thursday is rampant among the Lafayette students. The presence of five great coachers on the field this afternoon worked wonders with the eleven Behind the varsity were Davis, Brooke, Vali, Newman, and Dickson, while the scrub was goaded on by Price and Bray. During the first half the varsity was composed of the regular men, and great holes were torn in the scrub at random. In the second half several men were taken out, and the scrub put up a flery game. "Tommy Spire, the famous little end on the 1800 team, who has been laid up for two years with an injured knee, was out again and put up a brilliant game. This morning Parke Davis put the team through thirty minutes of signal work, and likewise again at noon. In addition to the regular practice at 4 o'clock, the men were drilled in the gymnasium this evening. Another massmeeting was held by the students at noon to-day, at which further arrangements were made in regard to the team's support. The officials will be Eleinger, referee, and Flint, umpire, both from Princeton.

New Haven, Nov. 22.—Talcott B. Hull, physical trainer of the Yale football eleven, has notified the Yale management that he wishes to retire. He has been assistant trainer to the Yale eleven for three years, and will probably continue to act in that capacity next season. The Yale management have had dozens of applications for the place of trainer this fall, and are considering some of them. Those of Michael Sweeney, the high jumper and Hill School (Pottstown), trainer, and "Pooch" Donovan, the Brown University trainer, are among the list of favorably considered candidates. The rumor that when Michael Murphy, the University of Pennsylvania trainer, was here Saturday he was invited to return to Yale as football and track trainer was to-night denied by Manager Brown of the football team and Manager Brown of the Track Athletic Association. Magee said: "Murphy gets $2,500 from Pennsylvania, and Yale won't pay any such fancy salary as that to anybody." Brown said that the football management did not say a word to Murphy about returning, although he admitted that he would like to see Murphy back.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—Pennsylvania had open practice to-day. The spectators were greatly elated with the work. The men showed great spirit. No limping was apparent. Outland had a great burst of speed. All the old plays were reheared, and considerable time was spent on some new ones. It is said that a great variety of plays will be sprung on the Ithacans. Outland did plenty of place kicking, getting goals from the 35-yard line. The marring feature was a tendency to fumble on the pass from centre to quarter.

To the Editor of the Sun-Sir: In your issue of Nov. 20 Cochran of the Harvard eleven is reported to have said: "Notwithstanding the fact that Princeton defeated Inle. I consider the Tigers the weakest team of the Big Five' this year." Will you please inform me what colleges are included in the "Big Five'? Presumably Cornell is the fifth member, and, according to Mr. Cochran, is stronger than Princeton, although beaten by the Tigers in a game in which the Princeton goal was not once menaced. Every schoolboy knows the folly of comparing teams by the scores which have been made against other teams. Mr. Cochran evidently bases his statement on the fact that Harvard defeated Yale by a larger score than did Princeton. Very good: but supposing we go a step further, and compare the scores made by Harvard during theseason with those made by Princeton. We will find that no fewer than four elevens were able to cross the Crimson goal line, while only one score was made against Princeton. That was a placed goal from the field, due to individual poor judgment, and in nowise reflecting on the defensive strength of the eleven as a whole. Not one of the opposing teams was able to cross Princeton's goal line, Princeton defeated Brown at Providence 23—0, while Harvard, on her own grounds, could not teams was able to cross Princeton's goal line. Princeton defeated Brown at Providence 23—0, while Harvard, on her own grounds, could not roll up more than 17 points, while Brown managed to make 6. Comparing the two elevens on this basis Princeton would have to be considered immensely superior, were it not for the fact that relative scores cannot be considered a criterion. In former years supposedly invincible Harvard teams have been sent home defeated by the Tigers, and who knows but what the same fate might not have overtaken the Crimson this year had the two elevens met on the gridiron. Had Yale defeated Princeton on Nov. 12 Harvard might have had sittle more trouble with the "Ells," for all followers of football know the moral effect of a defeat. I do not wish to detract one iota from the glory of the Harvard eleven, but is not Mr. Cochran's opinion of the relative strength of the "Big Five" just a triffe absurd?

ANOTHER PUBLIC HEARING ON THE

SIX-DAY BACING ORDINANCE. Before the Law Committee of the Board of Aldermen Received a Chance Yesterday to Present Its Report, a Motion Was Car-ried to Befer it Back to the Committee. There was something about the sizerity of Alderman Bridges yesterday when he inter-rupted the report of the Law Committee on the aix-day ordinance which suggested that he knew what was coming. Chairman Burrill

Committee was going to report favorably in he matter of prohibiting six-day races. The motion of Alderman Bridges to refer the mata public hearing, at which both sides might be heard, practically shut him off, and after it was seconded by Aldermen Flick and Ledhill and carried, the matter was ended so far as there being any further question as to whether or not a six-day race will be run. There will be a six-day race, be-cause there is no legal obstruction possible with the absolute lack of "political pull" that the wheelmen have been forced to acknowledge. The six-day race is scheduled for Dec. 5, and there is not time between now and then for any ordinance to be enacted. Not one of the promoters of the six-day grind has bothered to attend any of the hearings given in connection with the proposed prohibitive how much surprised they were at the action on the bill because several of the promoters are interested in boxing and could not be found at their offices nor at Madison Square Garden.

Eddie McDuffee, who won more middle-disance races this year than Jimmy Michael or any other man, has received offers to go to Italy and meet some of the cracks over there. He says that he will accept.

It is a statistical side light on the amount of riding being done at this season, as well as a favorable commentary on the efficiency of the new bicycle police squad in Brooklyn, to quote the record of thirty-five arrests last Sunday, and every one for scorching. The fact lights shows that lampmakers are doing a good business, and that the "bike cops" have a practical common-sense understanding of the difficulty of keeping small lamps lighted on a windy night. Roundsman Lake, who is in charge of the Brooklyn squad, says that the amount of riding in Brooklyn at this season surprises him.

Said a woman who had just torn her stocking and lacerated her leg on the outer guard of her pedal, to the man who accompanied her: "Why don't they make those things round and blunt or else cover them with rubber?" Her escort, who was in the business, reclied: "Give it up. Never thought of it before, but it isn't a half bad pointer."

Never thought of it before, but it isn't a halt bad pointer."

A great many impertinent questions have been addressed to President Potter of the L. A. W. concerning his intentions of seeking to be a "third termer." He was in a communicative mood yesterday when a reporter of The Sun and some others started to talk politics, and, with some abridgment, he said:

"This thing of trying to talk politics at this time of the year is a mistake. No one in the League should try to talk politics before the lest of January. There are too many other issues to occupy the thought and time, and there is too much work to be done. Just as soon as you introduce politics it is ant to sever friendships. Suppose now that I or any one here should begin to discuss the offices and the policy of 1899. Just as quick there would be others come out to say that they differ with us, and the real business of the League would be lost in a political wrangle. If I said that I would like to be President, there might be some other member of the Executive Committee who would want to oppose me. If I said that I did not I would have to explain why and listen perhaps to the arguments of some who would like to see me run again. I am for the League first, last and all the time. It has work eleven months in the year and politics only one. I sometimes think that any man who comes into League headquarters and tries to talk politics to me during office hours ought to be sent to jail for six months. So far as I have seen the political game is a funny one anyhow. You have first got to catch your man then the him and gag him, and after that sit up and watch him. I am not playing politics, and you can quote me as having nothing to say.

For winter riders a prominent tire-making concern has introduced a thin and narrow rubber strip that is sharply corrugated on its surface. This is intended to be comented on the tread of the tire to prevent slipping on muddy or ley roads. As most tires are con-siderably worn by November or December, such an accessory is likely to meet a need.

A number of the men who intend to ride i A number of the men who intend to ride in the six-day race have made themselves liable to the Racing Board by doing their training on Berkeley Oval. It is rumored that Chairman Mott will shortly issue a bulletin declaring the attitude of the League in racing matters. The idea of it will be to inform racing men that the League still is in control. Quite a few amateurs, as well as professionals, have been capiled into entering unsanctioned races under the representation that the League

There will be a meeting of track owners, promoters, and professional racing men in this city on Dec. 8 for the purpose of forming an organization to control bicycle racing.

The Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island The Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island has voted down the proposition of a cycle show being held under the auspices of the organization. The previous Brooklyn shows have been under a sanction of the local Cycle Board of Trade. This year the local board could not promote a show because of the stand taken against them by the National Board of Trade. Now that the latter organization has voted to dissolve, all local tradesmen are at liberty to promote shows, and it is rumored that those in Brooklyn will do so.

Unsatisfactory Ending of Harvard's Season -New Coach for Cambridge. CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 22 .- The Harvard fall rowng season was brought to an end this afternoon by an unsatisfactory race between the two 'varsity and two Weld Boat Club eights over the two-mile course in Charles River Basin. The start was the Union boathouse, with the finish just below the Longwood Railroad Bridge. The crews got away well together, but Higginson's eight, stroked by Harding, soon drew away and at the Harvard Bridge was leading by a length of clear water. A half mile further on the first Weld boat gradually forged to the front and began fighting the 'varsity on even terms. At the finish it was nip and tuck, front and began fighting the varsity on even terms. At the finish it was nip and tuck, but to the spectators it appeared that the Weld boat had a slight lead, and the referee so gave his decision to the judges at the finish. They, however, could not decide which boat was ahead, so the decision was changed to a draw. Capt. Bancroft of the Weld Cub entered a complaint that the alignment at the start had not been even. The last decision, however, stood. The Weld men were very sore over the matter. Those who ought to know are divided in opinion, but the majority rather lean to a Weld victory. The second varsity finished third and the second Weld erew fourth. The make-up of the crews was:

When the students of Harvard looked into the Boston papers this morning they learned that Andy O'Dea, the Australian carsman of Yara Yara 'ame, who has so successfully coached the University of Wisconsin's crews, had been secured to take charge of Harvard's rowing interests for the coming spring. A talk with Capt. Higginson this evening, however, brought to light the fact that negotiations with O'Dea were on, but nothing definite had been done in the matter. As in the case of McMasters, it was said that no arrangement would be made until the professional arrived in Cambridge. From another authoritative source it was learned that O'Dea had been practically engaged, but would in no sense supplant Coach Storrow as head coach, but would take care of the physical condition of the men and look after minor details, such as watermanship, blade work and the like. The gist of this is that O'Dea will do most of the work. O'Dea was in charge of Harvard's rowing candidates in the fall of 1850, but when Lehmana arrived here he was released. Since then O'Dea has spent part of his winter in Cambridge superintending the building of the shells which Davy has constructed for the Wisconsin crews. The men who owed under him in 1860 speak very well of the Australian, and his sengagement on the whole will be a popular move. Harvard has shown during the past two years that there is no available undergraduate who can successfully coach the crew. For reasons which Coach Storrow made plain in his letter of last week, so that the engagement of a competent man has been desired for the Wisconsin crews. The men who was in the work for the engagement of Pat Donavan, the Weld Club professional, who has done so well with the club men for the past year.

The Montclair Golf Club has had a new nine hole course laid out, which is equal to the Meadowbrook or any nine-hole links abroad in Meadowbrook or any nine-hole links abroad in playing capabilities. The playing length is 3,000 yards, actual measured distance, and, as the property has been purchased, this is an indication or forecast of what the full eighteen-hole course will be in the near future. The links is on an undulating grassland country, mostly old pasture land, and liberally interspersed with creeks and brooks. A fine new clubhouse is being built, and, according to Tom Bendelow, who laid out the links, everything will be in readiness for the members by next spring. Bendelow has also within a fortingth been to York, Pa., where he laid out two private links, for Philip A. Small and for Grier Hersh, President of the National Bank of York.

Whist.

One of the greatest surprises of recent years was the result of the seventh match for the A. W. L.

challenge trophy, which was played at the rooms

the New York Whist Club, holder, on Monday night. The Knickerbocker Whist Club of New York, challenger, was the winner by the score of 26 to 23. The The Knickerbooker Whist Club of New York, challenger, was the winner by the score of 28 to 28. The teams were:

New York—J. B. Elwell, A. E. Taylor, J. E. Faber and H. B. Newman.

Enickerbooker—C. R. Watson, R. M. Cramer, G. L. Tirrell and E. Eloit, Jr.

Not a member of the winning team had ever played in a championship match before, and they had never before played it tether as a team. The American Whist Club of Boston held the trophy against all comers since the last congress until they were defeated by the New Yorks a week ago in one of the hardest-fought battles on record. Every one supposed the New Yorks would hold the cup for a long time, and the first part of the match on Monday night looked like it. They started out with a lead of two tricks, to which they soon added a four strike. They kept in the lead until forty-woo of the forty-eight deals had been played. The Knicker-bookers never lost heart, however, and had decidedly the bost of the match in point of physical endurance. It was after 3 o'clock in the morning when the last deals were played and the strain began to tell on the New York men, who dropped seven tricks and the match on the last few deals.

The next challengers in line are the Campial Bicvelle Club of Washington and the Buffalo Whist Club. As neither of these onganizations is likely to come here, the Philadelphia Whist Club will probably play the Knickerbookers on Saturday next.

At the Brooklyn Whist Club on Monday night the top score was made by Deuls a and McDonald, 8 plus, Mas Mide and Henin were second with 7. High score K and W was made by Camp and Hickox, 7 plus. Wilde and Henin were second with 3. On women's night Mr. and Mrs. Tucker made the top score N and 8 was made by Wis. Hawthorne and Miss Gleballi, Spilus, Miss Baker and Mrs. Mose were high E and W with 2 plus.

IF YOU READ

all the clothing advertisements, you will wonder whether clothiers are philanthropists or are preparing to make an assignment. Unfortunately for honest clothiers, too many advertisements are merely decovs to attract customers, with a view to getting their money regardless of furnishing an equivalent. We do not claim that our Men's Black Chinchilla and Kersey Overcoats for $9.00 are worth $20.00, nor that our $15.00 cloth lined Kersey Overcoats, with heavy Satin Shoulders and Sleeve Linings, are worth $25 00, but they are "leaders" worth your inspection. We guarantee to give you one hundred cents' value for every dollar invested for Men's or Boys' Clothing. Hats and Furnishings or refund your money if not satisfied.
